New WEW Cohort: Who Am I? A 10-Week Study on Identity in Christ

Begins Wednesday, January 13, 2027

Who am I, and how do I define myself?

Many of us quietly build our sense of self on shifting ground: our failures and sins, our successes and careers, our relationships, or what others say about us. These things change, and when they do, our sense of who we are can change with them.

This January, we invite you to join a new WEW cohort for a 10-week study of Who Am I? by Jerry Bridges. Together we'll look at eight core identities that belong to every believer because we are in Christ. These identities don't rise and fall with our circumstances; they're grounded in Him.

As we learn to claim who we are in Christ, we hope to live each day with greater joy, confidence, meaning, and thankfulness.

This cohort will be led by Dr. Sarah Won, a gifted physician, teacher, shepherd, wife, and mother. The course will be interactive, and we hope it will help build community among the women who take part.

Details

- Start date: Wednesday, January 13, 2027, 7:30-9:00 EST
- Length: 10 weeks
- Book: Who Am I? by Jerry Bridges (required text)
- Attendance: Loosely mandatory. Please make every effort to attend each week with your camera on, for the sake of building community.
- Target audience: Women ages 18–35
- Format: Virtual, Interactive

We'd be glad to have you join us. For information or registration, contact WEWcohort@gmail.com.